ACCURACY

In reading the Los Angeles Daily News, the auspicious tabloid of that city, we find the following news story:

CHAFFEY JUNIORS BEAT SANTA ANA IN PRACTICE

"The Chaffey junior college handed the Santa Ana J. C. a rude jolt in their practice workout last Saturday, when Bill Cook's changes trampled over Bert Heiser's first students by a 12-0 score. The showing, however, was quite pleasing to the Santa Ana supporters, as it was the first time in the history of the school that they have put out a football team."

We wish to call the attention of the esteemed Daily News to the fact that Santa Ana beat Chaffey, that Bert Heiser is not our coach, that neither team received a rude jolt, and that we have had a football team longer than their accurate scandle sheet has been established.

We of the Don staff thought that we made many mistakes, but we are about to place ourselves on a big and high pedestal after reading the report that has helped misinform many people.

PARKING

It seems that the college was paid the honor of a visit from a committee of notable city officials last week. The object, according to Mr. Hammond, was to keep the students from parking in front of the houses surrounding the school.

No small problem is involved here, and it is not the first time it has come up. At varied intervals the matter has been raised, and each time no lasting solution has been obtained.

This year parking has been made even harder by the moving of the fence near the gym, for what reason we cannot see.

But whatever the outcome, it should be the duty of each individual to help give a good impression of his college to the town people in this and other differences which arise.

However, we were lead to believe that the statement from the city officials was a request and not a command. But since then threats of arrest have been made. We are under the impression that no ordinance has been passed as yet, nor have any signs been placed along the street.

We of the college are willing to try to comply with any suggestion to help ourselves or others, but we refuse to consider that we are breaking a law.

Speaking of the game Saturday it was gratifying to see so many of the college students on hand. And they got their moneys worth too, if the comments go for anything.

A certain official afforded much amusement to the grandstand when he prevented our president from taking pictures of the game, and then looked back at the play soon enough to give a fifteen yard penalty.

Altogether it was a good starter for a successful season.

SOPHOMORES GIVE DANCE SATURDAY

Y. M. Frosh Feed To Come Monday

Free Dinner To Be Given To All Men Of The College

LATE BULLETIN

The annual frosh feed of the campus Y. M. C. A., will be held Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the city "Y". This feed is free to all men of the college.

The first regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will take place next Monday evening, October 1, at 6:30 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. building, and will be in charge of the cabinet.

Sterling Barnet, Y. M. C. A. president, has stated that plans for the meeting have not yet been fully arranged, but that a good feed is assured to all who attend, and that a spicy program will be offered. The speaker for the occasion is yet to be chosen.

Barnett stressed the point that a special invitation is extended to the freshmen, but whether freshman or sophomore, any one interested in social work such as visiting the detention home, or in the Boy Scout association, or in any other activity covered by the Y. M. C. A., can find it to his benefit to attend this meeting.

Positions Now Open On Yearbook Staff

There are positions open on the Algor staff.

Students, who have had experience working on high school or college annuals or any business publications, or who have any business ability, please apply to Eleanor Turner as soon as possible.

It is requested that anyone who would care to work on the Algor should not be modest about sending in his or her application.

Twenty-Eight Pass Subject A. Exam Given by Glenn

The subject A examination, taken under Mr. Glenn last Saturday morning by twenty-eight students was passed successfully by the following:

Frosh Accept Invitation

On behalf of the freshman class of Santa Ana college, I accept the kind invitation of the sophomore class to be present at the annual soph-frosh dance which is to be held at the Ebell clubhouse in Santa Ana on the night of Saturday, September 29, at 9 p. m. through the courtesy of the sophomore class.

John Wylie Carlyle
Temporary president of the Freshman class.

Press Club To Hold First Meeting Wed.

The Press club will have its first meeting next Wednesday, October 3, in the "Y" Hut. The purpose of the meeting is to re-organize the club, and make plans for the year.

A versatile program has been arranged. Jane Stewart will play and sing, Ruby Gray will read, and Dorothy Clarkson, formerly a junior college student, and now social editor of the Times, will give some of her experiences. Another speaker is being arranged for.

Dinner Held In "Y" Hut Last Evening

New girls on the campus were guests of the Y. W. C. A. at a pot-luck dinner in the hut at 5:30 last night.

Following the dinner, the program for the ensuing year was presented by Mary Bruner, president. Plans for the Y. W. retreat were discussed. An effort is being made to arouse interest in the organization among the new girls.

The officers of the college Y. W. C. A. are president, Mary Bruner; vice-president, Barbara Goodrich; treasurer, Eleanor Turner; secretary, Dorothy Haynes; committee chairman are: ways and means, Margaret Glenn; house and grounds, Lena May Wilsey; world fellowship, Joy Wilson; publicity, Pauline Neddermeyer; program, Charlotte Brown; girl reserve, Helen Heil.

Annual Dance To Be Given At Ebell Clubhouse In Honor Of Frosh Class

Mock Trial To Be Given In Assembly

George Tobias announces that the assembly today will be in charge of David Cherry, commissioner of forensics. Cherry has given much time to present a program which will be greatly enjoyed by friends, faculty and students.

Opening the program, Thelma Stoval will favor with a vocal selection. Ruby Gray will entertain with one of her readings. Thelma Dugan, will give a short talk on some phase of forensics. Announcements will next be made for the coming year.

The main feature of the program is the "Mock Trial". What have you done now Freshie? Be sure you're wearing your Beanie and have your Bible on hand. This trial is a great mystery and students and faculty are urged to attend.

The assembly will be in the high school auditorium at 1 p. m.

Committee Submits Budget Estimates

Members of the executive committee submitted estimates of budgets at the board meeting Monday morning.

The following tentative budgets were presented: forensics, $150; Algor, $850; Women's athletics, $261; Men's athletics, $2,264.

Two members of the board will be permanent chairman of an assembly committee, it was decided. George Butler and David Cherry were appointed.

Throughout the semester members of the board will take charge of regular assemblies. Dates were assigned.

It was also decided that the board authorize the purchase of a megaphone from the miscellaneous fund.

Women Select New Cabinet Officers

Following the assembly last Wednesday, the Woman's Athletic Association held a meeting for the purpose of electing the cabinet for this semester. The results of the election were: Clara Kate Owens, vice-president; Pauline Neddermeyer, secretary; Margaret Glenn, treasurer.

After the cabinet was chosen, it's members met to choose the basketball manager for this season, this officer becoming a member of the cabinet.

Willard White In Charge Of First Ball Of Year

Dates, dances, strains of syncopation, streamers of scarlet and black! When next Saturday arrives these will be in evidence, for that is the date of the first dance of the year, the sophomore-freshman dance.

This dance, which is an annual affair given by the sophomores in honor of the freshmen, is to be held at the Ebell clubhouse on French street. An exceptionally good orchestra has been engaged for the dance. It is a five piece fraternity orchestra from Long Beach.

Special dances will be featured to mix the words and help the bashful ones to get acquainted.

Decorations, which will be in scarlet and black, are in charge of Margaret Glenn, chairman, Omar Williams, Felix Garney, Barbara Goodrich, George Butler, and Josephine Ball.

Naomi West is in charge of refreshments. Adelaide Mueller and Sterling Barnett are also on the committee.

The freshmen are given free tickets to the dance and the sophomores are given a ticket upon payment. (Continued on page 3)

Instructor Calls For Debating Material

The library is a scene of much confusion as students rush hither and thither searching the shelves for books on debating etiquette and kindred subjects.

Mr. Stewart, debating instructor, is very much pleased with his class in argumentation but still he wants more students to come out for this activity. A contest is to be arranged and the winners will represent Santa Ana college in the debating conference.

Representatives from the colleges in the conference will meet in a few days to decide the schedules of debates and the topic.

The date for the first debate will be published immediately after the conference meeting.

Gain In College Enrollment Evidenced In Large Classes

Due to the fact that the enrollment in junior college this year is 409, many of the classes are crowded.

There are four classes in which there are over seventy-five students, psychology A, psychology 22, astronomy 1, and philosophy 22. The classes of geology 1, history 4A, and philosophy 3A, contain between fifty and seventy-five students.

However, in spite of these difficulties, progress is being made, and authorities hope that the classes will be allowed to continue.

Editorial Comment

Our football season is upon us or with us as we may choose to be. It is easy to under stand that in order to have a championship team there must be championship backing.

Last Saturday the team went to Chaffey and very thoroughly trounced their opponents with a score of 12-1, but there were very few rooters from Santa Ana to be seen. Those who were present are to be commended but those who could have been there and were not should be shot! Our team has hopes of crossing Occidental's goal line a few times next Saturday, so let's all be present and cheer them on to victory—Come and yell.

1928 has all the earmarks of being an A-1 football year. The best material ever has signed up and their fighting spirit has been revealed. It is up to the students to keep up the fight.—Come and yell!

Student Comment

It seems to me that it's time that a little was said on the college student's side of this parking proposition. If the J. C. students who live out of Santa Ana enjoyed walking, they would walk to school every morning rather than come in a car; and now we are greeted with the "good news" that the only place that we can park is on the side of the street adjoining school property. High school starts at 8:30 and when we arrive for nine o'clock classes, we have to park don by Camille and Ross streets and walk the rest of the way—more fun. Why doesn't the school board or whoever is causing the disturbance try forcing the high school students to park on their own side of the lot? Why should they come over here when they have plenty of room on Parton? Oh why couldn't parking places be assigned to students who have to bring cars, at least.

Instead of trying to furnish us more room to park in, as they should do, the board takes away the little room that we had. I refer to the fence beyond the "Y" hut. We will all admit that as conditions were, the gym and machine shop could have burned to the ground before the fire department could have plowed its way through all of those cars; but why couldn't the fence have been moved twenty or thirty feet in the other direction, I mean the side of the fence parallel to Chestnut Ave. I can't see how twenty feet more or less could have much effect on the athletic field.

And then our neighbors are complaining, we are told. People who live and own property near a school should have to undergo the inconveniences of having cars in front of their houses. Why doesn't the police try restricting parking districts around the theaters or around churches—just let them try. Schools should be made no exception.

Signed

Harold T. Watson

In college life we hear much about loyalty. We must all support our athletic teams, to be sure. Every Don and Donna recognizes the importance of this. We are urged toward this end at every assembly and in many issues of our school paper.

Debating and oratory also must be supported. We are all interested in the names of those who represent our school, and in the success they attain.

At Santa Ana junior college we have an orchestra. It deserves your support as much as any other activity. We have an excellent director, but there are not enough in the orchestra. There are students in this school who play well, but who are not enrolled in the orchestra. Why not show school loyalty in this line also? Perhaps you think that since we make few appearances that it is not worth-while. If we had more members, more could be accomplished. You can still join the orchestra and receive credit for it. If you can play fairly well, there's a place for you. Come on out, we need you!

Who's Who

No true Don's worth is measured by his size.

Although this popular young man is small and insignificant to look upon, he's one of the big frogs in this puddle. He rates the honor of the presidency of the sophomore class, and furthermore, he has made a name for himself in junior college athletics.

But even the best of men has his weakness. This blue-eyed tow-head, they say, simply adores whipped cream.

A Frosh's Letter To Her Diary

My dear diary,

I'm just busting with news. George is beginning to notice me now. We had a party in the gym the other night—the "Y Mixer" is what it was called. Well, they had a beauty contest there and when my turn came to show my good looks George helped me up onto the stage so nice. "Toby", that's his nickname, is getting nicer and cuter every day. He always speaks to me when we meet in the halls, and it sure is grand to have a man. Yes, he's still my man. I don't know for sure whether he knows it or not yet, but I think he is beginning to suspect it, especially after Friday night.

You see, Friday night was the beach party at Corona Del Mar. George was there of course. He brought another girl, but I guess that's because he wasn't he wasn't sure that he is "my man" yet. Anyway, he smiled at me and was just so nice. I'm just sure bringing that other girl didn't mean anything and I guess maybe he will take me to the next party. I didn't tell him that he was my man, not yet, but I kinda hinted around it. He acted real pleased too. I'm waiting to see how my case develops. It's thrilling.

Oh, I almost forgot to say that I didn't win that beauty contest. I wasn't very disappointed, though, cause I hate to get before the public so much. I get so embarrassed. I guess George must have guessed that and told the judges not to choose me. Anyway I know I'm pretty and—there goes the bell so I must cease.

A Freshie

By Florence Caverly

I'm a freshie in a college! May the heavens wish me joy!

I have cast aside my childhood I no longer am a boy! They have given me a bible I must wear a freshie cap I can yell with vim and vigor "Rah, rah, rah" and "yip, yip, yip" And the sophomores have fed me Will the wonder never cease And I went out to the "mixer" And we all played Fox and Geese. So I really am in college After all my preparation And I know that I would like it If it weren't for education.

Campus Chatter

Who said our college was not well known? Dorothy MacDonald traveled all the way from Cleveland, Ohio, just to attend J. C.

According to the story Mr. Stewart told the journalism class, fat people do not walk, glide, stagger, run, or what have you. Fat people "ooze" along the street.

Oh, Reg, how does it feel to be the winner of a "manly beauty" contest? It seems that the girls still like curly-haired blondes.

Gallant little Toby seemed to enjoy his job during the girls beauty contest at the Mixer Monday night. Who wouldn't?

We are glad to see that Wendell Jordan is back with us. The girls missed him last year.

The freshmen are just as bad as the sophs were last year. They all run for things that are free. Eats, tickets, etc.

Did someone say it was hot? Coming thru Arizona this summer, Dean Cowley saw a man feeding his chickens cracked ice. When he asked the reason, the man said he had to feed them ice to keep them from laying hard-boiled eggs.

Melva Fletcher says she hates to get up so early Saturday mornings. She sure isn't alone on that, eh! folks!

Why is it that Chester Chandler thinks firemen come to make fires?

Reporter: "Hey! Margaret Tedford, know any campus chatter?"

Margaret: "Huh! "What's that? I don't know what it is."

Reporter (disappointed): "Oh! Such sophomores."

Miss Dickson, Librarian, Tells Of Her Trip Abroad This Summer

Land And Continent Formed Itinerary For Travelers

Miss Dickson, Santa Ana junior college librarian, enjoyed a trip abroad this summer. She sailed from New York, June 23, on the Majestic steamer.

After a very pleasant voyage of ten days across the Atlantic, she landed at Southampton, England.

They motored directly to the coastal town of Salisbury which made the center for many interesting side trips. "One can hardly find anything more beautiful than June in rural England, with its fields, lovely trees, and gay gardens. Picturesque villages and quaint thatched cottages add to the landscape," according to the librarian.

Among the many interesting villages visited was Tewkesburg. Two days were spent at the famous Pole Hotel. It was here that Mrs. Mr. Pickwick entertained friends on one memorable occasion. The shrewd innkeeper has the most of this fact, and of Dickens are everywhere in evidence. Hardy, Dickens, Sheridan and others have made much of this very familiar to American readers.

The all day ride from Tewkesburg to London was affirmed delightful by Miss Dickson. The group stopped on the way to visit the king's castle at Windsor, the little church where Poles made famous by Shakespeare in his "Elegy Written in a Churchyard," and Eton College where the students wear the famous Eton jackets and stove hats.

London was exceptionally interesting where the travelers saw the grimaces of London, Hyde Park, with its box orators and fashionable back riders, the graceful statue of Peter Pan in Kensington Garden, Rosetta Stone which served as a to the Egyptian hieroglyphics the manuscript of the Magna Carta, and at the British museum begin marbles brought from Persia.

The rest of the summer was spent on the continent visiting France, Germany, Holland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Italy, and Switzerland. Each country had its own peculiar charm; of which the group in Germany more like our own country than any other.

Bachelor Sabbath Observed Today

Tempt them not!

On this day, the Bachelor's Sabbath, those bespectacled, scarlet necktied individuals who call themselves the Bachelors, swear not to hold conversation with any of the weaker sex.

However, soon they will all be searching for dates, because the Grand Exalted Bachelor, Charles Spotts, has ordained that they procure such for the freshman-sophomore dance.

Spanish Club Holds Big Meet Tonight

The Spanish club will meet for the first time this year tonight at seven thirty in the "Y" hut. The purpose of the meeting is to make plans for the semester, elect officers and admit new members.

Naomi West, president of the organization, is in charge of the meeting. Chester Chandler and Catherine Jessup will provide refreshments and Calvert Norland will arrange for a program and games.

Students who have had two years of high school Spanish or a year of college Spanish are eligible to membership and are invited to be present at this meeting.

There is no reason why every freshman should not be there, since the dance is free to them. Of course the sophomores will all be there because they know what a good time is to be had. So get your dates, fellows, and go where everyone is going, to the soph-frosh dance at the Ebell clubhouse on Saturday, September 29, at 9 p. m.

Prominent Student Speaks On Election

By Dwain Tarbette

This is, as everyone knows, an election year. Many and varied are the reasons given by various members of the electorate for supporting the candidates they do. You will find listed below a few collected by a Don reporter.

Reasons given for supporting Hoover:

Because my grandfather died in Picketts ranks at Gettysburg.

If Smith is elected there will be a subterranean passage from the Atlantic ocean to Washington through which the Pope will pass when he takes over the controls at the White House.

If Smith is elected we will be forced by law to arise at five o'clock every Sunday morning to attend mass.

Smith is in a continual state of inebriation.

Reasons given for voting for Smith:

My grandfather died in Confederate ranks at Gettysburg.

If Hoover is elected the United States will become a British province.

Hoover is a Californian.

Smith will enforce the eighteenth amendment more rigorously than Hoover.

Smith is an Irishman, or at least of Irish descent.

First J. C. Beach Party A Success

A crackling fire, a peppy crowd, Irish songsters, a bashful moon—all describe the success of the beach party held last Friday night at Corona Del Mar.

Many braved the waves of the Pacific, and others played baseball and football until the cry of food was heard. At this time the numbers of participants seemed to triple, and everyone lined up in the familiar bread line.

Afterwards, everyone got warmed up by singing songs, yelling, and listening to Mr. Fisk lead "All-a-wet". Eddie Gerhardt and Keith Trickey gave an imitation of a ventralquist act, Trickey being the dummy, and several freshmen sang songs of their native land. Ruth Tantlinger also gave a reading.

At about 9:30 the party broke up, leaving the beach no worse for the wear.

Music Department Boasts Largest Enrollment In College History

Prize Offered For Enforcement Essay

William C. Durant, of New York City, one of America's most profound thinkers and writers, is offering a prize of $2,500 to the person devising the best plan to make the eighteenth amendment effective.

Mr. Durant declares that law observance is the country's chief problem. He holds the business leaders of the country responsible for the crime wave and declares that the flagrant violation of the eighteenth amendment by the large business men is a bad example for the country. If the large business men had frowned upon its violation, if they had encouraged and observed its observance, if they had used their money and influence in protests against its violation, Mr. Durant believes that all of America would have caught the spirit of law observance.

"The first duty of a good citizen," says Durant, "is to obey the law. The highest law of the land is the constitution. Part of the Constitution is the eighteenth amendment. It was put into the Constitution by an overwhelming vote, passed by Congress and ratified by the legislatures of forty-six of the forty-eight states. Action contrary to the law is a crime and the offender is a criminal."

All offerings submitted for this contest must be typewritten and must not exceed 2,000 words. Plans are to be sent to the Prize Committee on the Eighteenth Amendment, Room 2401 Fish Building, New York City and they must be in prior to December 1, 1928.

Print Shop Courses Prove Very Popular

The featuring of three types of courses, pre-vocational, half day vocational and all day vocational has made the print shop of the Santa Ana junior college very popular this year.

The pre-vocational course has by far the largest number of students enrolled, however there are five students working half day, and four all day. In these courses the students actually do the work of a regular print shop. They set type, run the various presses, and after completing a certain amount of work they are permitted to learn to operate the linotype.

The instructor, Mr. Williams, when asked the question "Is the course an easy one" replied, "We offer no flowers—or roses, but if a student is willing to work he will come out on top with a trade at his power."

In this print shop, the high school paper the Generator, and The Don, are both printed. Also all of the printing for the school is done here. This makes advertising for the college much cheaper, and it gives those taking the course an all-around education in that line.

Were it not for the excellent supervision of the instructor, Mr. Williams, the amount of work which this small shop turns out could not be accomplished, for the majority of the work is actually done by students who are just learning the art.

Anticipate Another Operetta With High School This Year

According to Miss Martin, head of the music department, all of the music classes are very well filled this year. "It is the largest enrollment we have ever had at this time of the year," Miss Martin stated.

Although it has not been definitely decided, Santa Ana junior college music department will probably join Santa Ana high school in giving another large musical comedy, as "Pinafore" was so well received last year. There will also be regular college concerts and entertainments given throughout the year.

Due to the increasing interest shown, the music department is assured of a very profitable and successful year.

Because of the large enrollment in beginning voice, it was necessary to form two classes. Twenty-one already have signed up for this course. At present nine students have enrolled in advanced voice.

The college men's chorus is progressing very nicely. Fourteen have already signed and the number is rapidly increasing. The college women's chorus has also proven very popular this year and there are now twenty-two enrolled. "The mixed chorus, which is selected by examination, is to be organized very soon," Miss Martin stated. The college women's quartet and the college men's quartet are to be started this week and they will be prepared to be called on for assemblies and outside activities, in a few weeks.

The chorus in harmony, music and appreciation, and solfeggio all show a decided increase in enrollment this semester. The piano classes are also well filled.

Another interesting course offered to sophomores is history of music. "All girls studying to become teachers will find that they will be required to take a course in music history sometime before they finish training," Miss Martin said.

LOCAL GRIDDERS MEET STIFF OPPOSITION; GAME MARRED BY MANY PENALTIES AGAINST DONS

"Team Fair, Considering The Amount of Practice"—Cook

In a game that was marred by too many penalties against Santa Ana, the Dons managed to defeat the Chaffey Panthers by a score of 12 to 0. Two rather far-fetched decisions robbed the local gridgers of two other touchdowns, but such is the luck of the game. The total yardage that Santa Ana was penalized was almost the length of the gridiron—in fact 97 yards—which may or may not have militated against another tally.

Despite the fact that the score was low, the Dons showed impressive strength which seem to indicate that the team will be a hard one to beat after two or three weeks of intensive practice. Many faults were apparent in the game Saturday, but that was the purpose of the game in the first place—to show Coach Cook where the boys were weak so that he could eliminate those factors.

Reg Rust was the lad who toted the oval over the goal line for both tallies. One came in the second quarter and the other in the third frame. Norton, Blakeney, and Guyer showed up very well with nearly everybody else in the game playing hard and fast. Jack Blakeney injured his leg in the first quarter of the game and was unable to go back into the struggle. There were very few fumbles by either team, Chaffey making the most serious of the game. The Dons were fortunate in recovering most of their own fumbles and being able to recover one or two of Chaffey's.

Course in Coaching Offered Students

Fourteen students have taken advantage of a new course being offered this year entitled Elements of Physical Education. Mr. Scott is the instructor in charge and the course covers the handling of groups and is invaluable to the man or woman intending to go in to juvenile playground work. It is intended as a course for the student either majoring or minoring in physical education and is a full two unit course.

Last year there were approximately twelve women from the junior college who took charge of grammar school teams and groups in the instruction of physical education. These student instructors were under the supervision of the coaches at the different intermediate schools, but for all intents and purposes had full charge of the different teams.

"I have a letter from the school board expressing their appreciation for the work done by junior college students in intermediate schools," said Mr. Scott. "The board was very lavish in their praise of the type of work done and expressed the hope that as many students would be interested in doing similar work this year."

The penalties that were exacted upon the Dons were mostly of serious character. There were several fifteen yard penalties for unnecessary roughness and language unbecoming gentlemen and numerous penalties for offside. One penalty practically took a touchdown away from the local pig-skin pushers.

Rust had received a beautiful 20 yard pass from Preble and had run about fifty yards to a touchdown, when the ball was called back and given to Chaffey on the fifty yard line. The cause, so it seems was that Rust used his hands upon the defensive half-back to get him out of the way of the pass. The decision is a perfectly just one if Rust used his hands. That was the rub, if he used his hands it was in no flagrant way and certainly was not apparent from the side lines.

Locals Play Oxy Varsity Saturday

Next Saturday will see the Don grid machine stepping out into real competition. The game scheduled is with the Occidental varsity and is to be held at the Rose Bowl. Oxy this year is splitting her varsity squad and one half will play the Dons team and the other half will play Pasadena junior college in a second game the same day.

Last year the Dons beat the Oxy frosh to the tune of 19 to 7, and it is hoped that they will make an equally impressive showing against the varsity this year. While it is problematical whether or not the local gridgers will be able to pile up a big score on Oxy Saturday, certainly if things go like they should, the boys will make a good showing and Oxy will find she has a fight on her hands.

The boys are looking forward to the game for it will be a good test of their ability to meet collegiate competition stiffer than is expected in the junior college conference.

At the same time the local pig-skin pushers will have the opportunity to see the Pasadena eleven in action against the other half of the Occidental varsity and this will give them an idea of how the Pasadenans stack up as championship contenders.

JAY-CEE DONNAS RESPOND TO CALL FOR BASKETBALL TEAM; FORTY-THREE CANDIDATES OUT

Dons Meet Tigers Here October 6th

Final negotiations have been completed with the Riverside Tigers for a game to be played on the home turf, October 6. This means that a week from this Saturday the local grid fans will have the chance to see the Dons in action on the home field.

Last year the Dons defeated the Riverside aggregation on their own field to the tune of 24 to 13 and expect to repeat the feat this year. Riverside is also one of the teams in the conference which is greatly improved and in all probability the Dons will have a tough time decisively defeating the Tigers. Whether or not the improvement in the Tigers is equal to or greater than the improvement in the local team remains to be seen.

Due to the transfer of Riverside to the Eastern Division of the Conference, there will be no regular league meeting between the two teams and unless both teams win out in their respective divisions and meet to play for the Conference championship, this will be the only opportunity the fans will have of seeing a good, hard-fought game between two teams with a slight grudge on.

Tennis Response Is Weak; Only Six Out

Only six girls responded to the call for tennis Monday night. This is not enough to have a lively tournament like the college should have.

Miss Leck urges that a large response be made to the call of this sport which should have the interest of the college women. "Come out if you can play," she says, and be SURE to come out if you can't play." Tennis is to be coached by Miss Leck, affording for those who know how to play an opportunity to increase their form, and for those who do not know how to play, an excellent opportunity to learn.

Tennis is a sport that is receiving much interest today, especially from the women. It is a sport well adopted to women, and one which all women should enjoy. What is more one doesn't have to be a "Helen Wills" to receive the joy this game has to offer its players.

Coach Foote Well Pleased With College Turnout

Contrasting last year's 17 who answered the first call for basketball, 43 girls responded last Wednesday afternoon to the first call of the 1928 season. Of this number 24 were freshmen and 19 sophomores.

Mrs. Foote is well pleased with the response and has reason to believe this season will be a thorough success. If the number out increases within the next two weeks at the same percentage as last year, over 60 girls will be out before long. This however, is a rather large number to hope for, as not all of the 43 responded to roll call at Monday's practice. Nevertheless, all girls who have not come out yet but are interested in this sport are urged to answer the call. Those unable to be present for practice more than once a week will be used as substitutes and be given an opportunity to play.

For those who are unable to participate in practice on either Mondays or Wednesdays a Friday practice is being arranged.

Monday's practice included shooting for basket and passing, and ended with two lively games. The next practice will be held tonight.

Teams are not to be chosen for several weeks, but the time will be devoted to getting into good form.

Girls interested in swimming are reminded that the first meeting is to be at 3:30 in the corrective room of the gym Thursday. Attendance at this first meeting cannot be over-emphasized; so all girls interested in this sport are urged to be present.
